Dear Parent/Guardian,

We are very happy to advise you that we have received confirmation, from the Department of Education, that the extensive reconfiguration and refurbishment of the school will begin in the coming weeks.

Nano Nagle College is the first school in Ireland to be approved for such work in 2024 and we look forward to the state-of-the-art physical space that will further allow students at this school to reach their full potential.

This investment of several million Euros into the school is a strong commitment to Nano Nagle College from the Department of Education who clearly have confidence in our fully inclusive coeducational secondary school where all students can develop academically and personally while becoming valued members of our strong school, local, and wider community. Our school embraces positive change, and responds to the needs of our times, by enabling young people to find their place in society as active citizens and this upgrade allows us to move forward with facilities that match our ambition for young people on the Northside and beyond.

The work will consist of three phases beginning with the reconfiguration of the entire ground floor wing of the main building for three Special Educational Needs rooms for children with a diagnosis of autism. These 3 SEN base rooms will be complimented with sensory spaces, WCs, shower room and central activities space and soft outdoor play area.

There are 3 rooms to the rear of the building which have been selected for Engineering and Design and Communication Graphics rooms. These rooms allow us to further expand our curriculum allowing boys and girls to experience subjects that match their interests and as well as the employment needs of a modern and diverse society.

Yours sincerely,
